

Exeter Interfaith Group meetings 2023

Exeter Interfaith group invites you to a set of free talks taking place at the Mint Methodist Church. Meetings are on Tuesdays, 5.15-6.45pm

10th January

'Happy new year'. Where do our traditions look to for hope? How can we stay hopeful in a world where people are suffering?

Jude Taylorson and Ed Pawson

7th February

What does the 2021 census tell us about religion and belief in England today?

Ed Pawson

7th March

Why do some traditions have rules about food and drink?

Andrew Sails

4th April

What does it mean to be a pagan?

Maia Miller

2nd May

Should religious groups have exemption from anti-discrimination legislation?

Iain McDonald

6th June

What is pilgrimage and how does it change us?

Jeremy Roberts and Tim Johns

11th July

Is patriarchy an inherent aspect of religious traditions?

Ed Pawson

5th September

Oneness in Jewish mysticism

Marc Frank

3rd October

Who are the Street Pastors and what role do they fulfil?

Bill Becher

7 November

Is nationalism compatible with religious faith?

Andrew Sails

5 December

How sacred is life?

Jude Taylorson

Contact Ed Pawson for more information at efpawson@gmail.com